

Wellness Program Consultation

There are so many different types of consultants spread throughout so many different industries; but for one of the fastest growing and most impactful industries most companies do not utilize a consultant to help their Wellness program flourish.

We have implemented, rectified, developed, and saved many wellness programs serving from 50 employees up to 2,000 employees; locally or spread out through multiple states. Wellness Consultation has been a key ingredient missing within a lot of programs in the past and most likely in the future. Once you include some form of continuous consultation into your strategy model, your program will be deemed as a successful program where you would see a tremendous ROI.

Our consultation model is very thorough, we have over 20 steps involved within our process to ensure a successful implementation and integration of a Wellness program into your organization. We will provide you with step by step direction and guidance so that you are included within the process, but can also customize your program to fit within your company's culture.

Our procedure provide you with our consultation services is quite simple, you just need to contact us through our website and one of our Implementation consultants will contact you within 24 hours and establish a time come to your facility, and provide you with a free evaluation and quote as to what the consultation will include. Our costs are directly correlated with the size and effectiveness of how you want your program to look over the next 3 years. An effective program needs to be built with the belief system that any Wellness program is its most effective after year #3.

Contact us for a free consultation evaluation and we will work side-by-side with you or your Wellness ocmmittee to create an effective Wellness program that you and your employees would be very proud of.
